The situation surrounding COVID-19 continues to impact our candidates and clients in unprecedented ways. Like many of you, we are making proactive steps to ensure the health and safety of everyone we support.

Our team has HR Consultants that have been certified through the Government of Canada and the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health & Safety.

Career Contacts has been actively supporting our community with COVID related human resources support, with no strings attached. We recognize businesses and employees need support on how to adapt to remote or changing working conditions as the call for physical distancing continues.

To help you navigate the changes our entire recruitment and human resources team has donated their time to provide support, documentation, webinars and additional resources. Please be sure to check back to our site regularly, as updates are continuous and we are also ensuring that as our clients request support, that we add that support for our entire community.

As always, we are ready to support you with company specific needs.
